Arkadia announces a collaboration with Plan B Network for a course dedicated to Bitcoin Self-Custody.

Arkadia is pleased to announce a prestigious collaboration with Plan B Network, which, under the guidance of Giacomo Zucco, has selected Arkadia as the official partner to offer an innovative training course on Bitcoin Self-Custody.

The course will be led by Marco Caldana, Operations Manager at Arkadia, who began his journey in this field in 2018 under the guidance of Zucco. Since entering the sector, Caldana has developed significant technical expertise, specializing in all aspects related to Bitcoin and cybersecurity.

This initiative, which will be launched during the next Plan B Forum in Lugano (October 25-26, 2024), offers a unique opportunity for all those aspiring to manage their digital assets independently and to master the essential skills for the security of their funds.

The course will take place in Lugano and will be available starting in February 2025, with in-person sessions to ensure a direct and personalized learning experience.

Reservations will be made available and managed directly on the Plan B Network portal at the following link: <https://planb.network/>.
